

Mesa View's Top Students

Mesa views school year of 2015 is coming to an end! And some of Mesa Views students are graduating with high honors. Jessica Landereth, and Stephen O'Connor are graduating with straight A's. They're advice is to "work hard, and pay attention." They have gone this whole entire year with straight A's. If you want to get straight A's, you need to study for tests and stay on top of your work. It may be hard because of all of the Common Core classes, but taking the extra step in your work will help you. Another plus to going to school is getting the Gold award for education. One of the people who are for sure getting the gold award from Mesa View middle school is Abigail Madrid, with her grades I wouldn't be surprised if she got to be the next president of the united States of America. Even though this is Mesa Views first year of having the graduation class with common core education, our school is a very educated school.

First Sixth Grade Class of mesa view is graduating

This year mesa view has its first sixth grade class promoting!! The first sixth grade teachers of mesa view middle school were Mrs. Wilson, Mr. Gordon, Mr. LeVan , and Mrs. Ring. One of the first sixth grade teachers said " The sixth graders were phenomenal, and they were ready to go when they first got there." Mrs. Wilson thank you for the information on your fist sixth grade class. Other students said that "Mrs. Wilson was my teacher in sixth grade, and she was the coolest, thank you for the wonderful year Mrs. Wilson." That lovely information was provided by Jacob Tower. Mr. LeVan will now give us some insight about how he feels about the first 6th graders at Mesa View Middle School. He said " The first class of sixth graders that I had set an example for the following sixth grade classes. They showed when it was time to mature, the time to be funny, and most importantly the time to put books before looks.

Mesa Views Dress code

To all of the newer pupils of mesa view middle school, the dress code may not be what you're used to. The dress code is that any shorts may not be shorter than your fingertips. Even when it gets to the end of the year, and it gets hot, you may not wear short shorts. If you forget somehow, the Mesa View announcements will remind you. During the Mesa View promotion ceremony , if you have not already heard of the dress code, it is formal wear only. Girls shall wear dresses, or pants suits. And boys shall wear a nice dress shirt, and pants (A tie is strongly recommended).

During the end of the school year, it is not allowed if you wear "spaghetti straps" (or straps less the three inches). If you do so, you will be sent to your locker to change into your P.E shirt or shorts if dress coded.

Choosing Electives

"THIS SCHOOL WAS LIFE CHANGING FOR ME. I MADE SEVERAL FRIENDS AND I HAD GREAT TEACHERS!"

Sixth, seventh, and eighth graders will be choosing their electives. But choose carefully because if you choose a class to be with your friends, you might choose a class that you're not good at. The options for Sixth grade are middle school prep. The options for Seventh grade are, art, band, choir, AVID, study period, and Year-book.

Stories ft. Mesa View

Mesa View Middle School has some funny stories to tell. Starting with Julia and her new dress. Julia gave us some horrendous insight about her promotion dress. One day she went to the mall and got a really nice dress but a girl named Brenda decided to get the same dress. So Julia freaked out and started some rude rumors about her, just because she didn't want to share the dress. Brenda was humiliated and decided that she would confront Julia. So the next day she confronted her and got some answers. Julia realized that she was being unreasonable and pathetic. So she apologized and they became acquaintances again. Julia knew it was vital to get a new dress and started her journey that day. She went everywhere for a new dress but no dress could compare with her new dress. So she asked her mother for some advice. She told her to try on her old dress. However, Julia rejected and said "mom, I want something new." So her mother said "okay go to the mall and keep looking then." But she refused and marched out the door. Eventually Julia came back and tried on her mothers dress. She was really surprised, she actually really liked it. So she went to the mall to get something to match it. She got a necklace and shoes. The day came.. Its promotion day. She went home and did her hair and make-up and she went to school. She would never forget the time she wore her mothers dress.
